

Ege Consulting is responsible for protecting the health and safety of its employees, business partners, customers, learners, members of the public, or any other relevant parties affected by its activities in training, consulting, auditing, and software development. This responsibility is always Ege Consulting's top priority.

As an organisation providing occupational health and safety services, Ege Consulting considers protecting the health and ensuring the safety of any person affected by its activities to be more than a requirement; a fundamental value.

This policy expresses Ege Consulting's commitment and undertaking to the following:

- Taking all measures and allocating resources to comply with applicable legal and other requirements
- Continuously improving OHS management and OHS performance
- Sharing all hazards related to its activities, with all their aspects and effects, with all relevant parties in the right way and at the right time
- Controlling risks and preventing occupational accidents and diseases.

The implementation of this policy will be a priority in the management of all Ege Consulting activities. Health and safety issues will be treated as a top priority in operations.

Achieving the commitments outlined in this policy is of primary importance for the health, safety and well-being of employees, business partners and learners, and is fundamental to the future success of Ege Consulting's business.
